

SINDY KITCHEN

This well-cared-for Sindy kitchen toy from the late 1980s comes complete in its original box. It is slightly discoloured in places due to natural ageing, used and is subject to the following repairs:

1. The drop-leaf on the end of the dining bar has been permanently glued in the upright position as seen in the pictures because the pivot for the support was broken.
2. The original television aerial was broken and a makeshift one has been constructed from a wooden toothpick wrapped and glued in aluminium foil.
3. One of the knives was broken and has been glued together.
4. A saucepan was cracked and has been glued.
