

SINDY MAKE-UP COUNTER

This well-cared-for, used, rare Sindy make-up counter toy from the late 1980s comes in its original box. Both the toy and its box are in good condition.

Of all the large number of small accessories, the only missing item is one small, false fingernail. The 'mirror' at the back of the small mascara case, on the counter in the centre of the picture, has been re-affixed to the inside of the lid because the original glue perished and the foam on the end of the mascara wand in the case has been replaced since the original also perished. The advertised price reflects the missing item and the minor repairs.
